Veritone to Showcase Award-Winning AI Solutions at the International Broadcasting Conference 2022, September 9-12

Veritone to Exhibit its AI-Driven Digital Asset Monetization and Synthetic Media Applications Empowering Enterprises with Industry Leading Content Digital Management Solutions

DENVER--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Veritone, Inc. (NASDAQ: VERI), creator of aiWARE, a hyper-expansive enterprise AI platform, today announced its participation at IBC2022 in Amsterdam. IBC brings together leaders from the entertainment and technology industries, where Veritone will showcase its array of award-winning AI solutions designed to increase revenue opportunities, efficiencies, scaled operations and enterprise-level migration to the Web3 metaverse.

Through Veritone's AI offerings, content creators and owners can efficiently and securely share, manage and protect assets; expedite content monetization; and scale, localize and translate digital content. As an established solutions leader in the media and entertainment industry, Veritone provides its AI-driven software solutions to many of the world's top entertainment companies and to all Big 6 media companies, which by some estimates collectively control as much as 90 percent of all consumable content. In addition, seven of the world's largest sporting events leverage Veritone.

"We needed a proven, scalable and reliable system that would enable us to create a contextual data layer for Globo's rights-held sports assets and index thousands of hours of content per year for better searchability," said Marcelo Fontana, Globo's product manager of Media and Entertainment solutions. "Globo selected Veritone aiWARE for its flexibility to run multiple AI models on each piece of content within a secure, network-isolated environment. Recognizing Veritone as one of the biggest companies in enterprise AI software, services and applications, we trust its AI solutions to help Globo address current and future challenges, efficiently and at scale."

A common thread linking Veritone's library of media and entertainment solutions is its AI Platform aiWARE™. Through Veritone Digital Media Hub, powered by aiWARE, customers can monetize valuable content that was previously idle and increase efficiency by seamlessly locating and sharing desired content within its AI-powered digital asset management applications. aiWARE is capable of sorting, tagging and segmenting media behind a storefront in a fraction of the time it takes with traditional digital asset management or media asset management solutions.

"Our content is our most valuable asset, and the robust management of that is essential," said Dave Adey, head of broadcast and technology for Extreme E. "Veritone not only exceeded that need, but matched our mission of sustainability that is critical to our goal of advancing climate change awareness."

"Media and entertainment organizations are often looking to better monetize their content and improve efficiency when it comes to workflows and archive management," said Drew Hilles, senior vice president, Commercial Enterprise, Veritone. "With the emergence of Web3, that struggle is now compounded even further. We're excited to showcase our award winning AI solutions at IBC and help media organizations across the world overcome the challenges of digital content monetization and management with Veritone's portfolio of AI solutions that help them monetize, manage, extend and protect their assets wherever those organizations reside."

Veriverse, Veritone's Web3 solutions portfolio, helps content creators and owners securely generate synthetic media, mint and trade NFTs and monetize and protect their assets in traditional and multiverse channels. Veritone Voice provides scale of engagement by creating custom AI voice models with the ability to generate branded synthetic content in multiple languages. To humanize digital experience, Veritone Avatar offers custom, ultra-realistic, interactive avatars to provide influencers and enterprises the ability to drive greater connection in areas of recruiting, fan engagement, customer service, education, virtual assistants, sales and more.
