flyExclusive Achieves ARGUS Platinum Safety Rating

KINSTON, N.C.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- flyExclusive, Inc. (NYSEAMERICAN: FLYX) ("flyExclusive" or the "Company"), a leading provider of premium private jet experiences, today announced it has once again earned the prestigious ARGUS Platinum rating—one of the highest recognitions in private aviation—reinforcing the company's unwavering commitment to safety, reliability and procedural excellence across its operations.

flyExclusive has satisfied ARGUS rating requirements every year since 2015, completing all required audits over that period. flyExclusive's retained Platinum status confirms the company's top tier safety protocols across its Safety Management System, Emergency Response Plan, organizational controls, operating procedures, training and maintenance programs.

"At flyExclusive, safety isn't just our top priority — it's the foundation of how we operate," said Matthew Lesmeister, Chief Operating Officer. "Our top tier safety certifications through ARGUS, Wyvern, and IS-BAO, reflect our relentless commitment to a culture of safety, risk management, and operational excellence across every part of the business — for our customers, our crews, and our entire team."

The ARGUS Platinum safety certification is awarded by ARGUS International after a comprehensive evaluation of safety culture, risk management, and regulatory compliance.
