Midwest Energy Emissions Corp. Announces Lead Counsel for SEA® Technologies Patent Strategy

The Company has engaged Caldwell Cassady & Curry to lead its SEA® technologies licensing and patent enforcement program throughout the USA

LEWIS CENTER, Ohio, Nov. 08, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Midwest Energy Emissions Corp. (OTCQB: MEEC) ("ME₂C" or the "Company"), a leader in mercury emissions control in North America, today announced it has engaged Caldwell Cassady & Curry P.C., an IP law firm based in Dallas, Texas, to lead the efforts to license the Company's SEA® technologies across the USA coal fleet www.caldwellcc.com. SEA technologies, the enhancing of a sorbent with a halide-based substance, have been adopted by a significant number of utility operations throughout the USA. ME₂C is offering licenses and other commercial options to the users of these patented technologies, including the Company's specialized know how.

Brad Caldwell, a principal of Caldwell Cassady & Curry, stated, "ME₂C has made important contributions to the coal-fired utility industry. We are excited to play a role in securing fair compensation and recognition for those contributions."

Richard MacPherson, CEO of ME₂C, added, "We have developed the best possible methods to meet the challenges of removing mercury emissions from coal-fired utilities with our patented SEA processes. With the support of Caldwell Cassady & Curry, we continue to move this suite of technologies forward for the benefit of the utility industry and ME₂C shareholders."

About Midwest Energy Emissions Corp. (ME₂C®)

Midwest Energy Emissions Corp.
