Ingram Micro Appoints Lisa Locklear to Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, North America

SANTA ANA, Calif., Dec. 5 /PRNewswire/ -- Strengthening its executive bench, Ingram Micro Inc. (NYSE: IM) today announced it has appointed Lisa Locklear to senior vice president and chief financial officer, North America.

In this role, Lisa is responsible for leading Ingram Micro's finance organization and supporting the business operations, planning and strategy. She will report to Ingram Micro North America President Keith Bradley.

"Lisa is a seasoned finance executive with more than two decades of experience in corporate finance and business operations," says Bradley. "She has been acting in this capacity for Ingram Micro since September of this year and we are very pleased to officially confirm her as Ingram Micro North America's CFO and formally welcome her to our senior leadership team."

Prior to joining Ingram Micro in 2003 as vice president of finance for North America, Lisa worked in key finance leadership roles for several high profile organizations including The Walt Disney Company, Avery Dennison Corporation and Price Waterhouse (now PricewaterhouseCoopers). Lisa's experience also includes two international tours to Europe totaling eight years.

"Lisa has played an instrumental role in the planning and financial execution of Ingram Micro North America's growth strategies and business initiatives," continues Bradley. "She has a keen understanding of the IT channel and is a natural leader that offers both the financial expertise and the business sense we want in a CFO."

Lisa is a Certified Public Accountant and received her bachelor of science from UC Davis and her MBA from UC Irvine. She resides in Orange County with her husband and two sons, and is an active member of the Orange County United Way Board of Directors, as well as the UCI Dean's Leadership Circle at the Paul Merage School of Business.
