flyExclusive Takes Delivery of its First Cessna Citation XLS Gen2

KINSTON, N.C.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- flyExclusive, Inc. (NYSEAMERICAN: FLYX) ("flyExclusive" or the "Company"), a provider of private jet services, today announced the addition of its first Cessna Citation XLS Gen2 business jet to the Company's operating certificate.

"Our fleet refresh remains an important focus for us," said Jim Segrave, Founder, Chairman, and CEO of flyExclusive. "Adding the XLS Gen2 gives our customers a well-balanced aircraft option and strengthens our mid-jet capabilities."

flyExclusive has been updating its fleet by phasing out older aircraft and concentrating on models like the CJ3+, XLS, and Challenger. The Company's in-house maintenance and repair facilities support these aircraft, helping to improve availability and streamline operations.

The Cessna Citation XLS Gen2 from Textron Aviation is the updated take on the world's best-selling midsize jet. It adds a quieter, brighter cabin with redesigned seating, improved lighting, and modern connectivity while keeping the XLS strengths: dependable performance, efficient operating costs, and solid short-field capability. U.S.-built and ready for business or leisure.
