MicroVision to Showcase its Automotive Lidar at CES(R) 2022 in Las Vegas

REDMOND, WA / ACCESSWIRE / December 8, 2021 MicroVision, Inc. (NASDAQ:MVIS), a leader in MEMS based solid state automotive lidar and micro-display technology for augmented reality, today announced that the Company will showcase its automotive lidar sensor technology on the exhibition floor and in private scheduled meetings throughout CES® 2022 on January 5-8 in Las Vegas.

"Following the initial public demonstration of our automotive sensor technology in September at the IAA Mobility Show in Munich, we look forward to showcasing our technology at CES," said Sumit Sharma, MicroVision's Chief Executive Officer. "We welcome this opportunity to highlight the capabilities of our sensor and to engage with potential customers, partners, and the investment community."

To schedule an appointment at CES® with MicroVision or learn more about MicroVision's exciting technology, customers, the investment community, and media should contact Jeff Christensen at MVIS@darrowir.com to schedule a meeting at CES® with MicroVision management. MicroVision will be exhibiting in Booth #3519 in the West Hall of the Las Vegas Convention Center.
