MAXIMUS Chief Financial Officer David Walker Named CFO of the Year

RESTON, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- MAXIMUS (NYSE: MMS), a leading provider of government services worldwide, announced that its Chief Financial Officer David Walker was named CFO of the Year at today's Washington Business Journal Awards in McLean, Virginia.

The awards recognize the important role that Chief Financial Officers play as the "steady hand" that guides the success of a business. Mr. Walker received his award in the category for professional services companies.

"We are proud of David's many accomplishments and extend our warmest congratulations," commented MAXIMUS CEO Richard A. Montoni. "As an integral member of our senior executive committee, David is a trusted partner who helps shape the Company's long-term strategic direction, drives operational excellence, plays an active role in business development activities, and supports our merger and acquisition strategy."

"It is an honor and privilege to be recognized by the Washington Business Journal awards program," said Walker. "I offer my appreciation for the MAXIMUS management and finance teams. Leading this very capable team and being part of their collective accomplishments is what I am most proud of today."
