MAXIMUS Chief Financial Officer David Walker Named Public Company CFO of the Year

RESTON, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- MAXIMUS (NYSE: MMS), a leading provider of government services worldwide, announced that Chief Financial Officer David Walker was named Public Company CFO of the Year at yesterday's 18th Annual Greater Washington Technology CFO Awards in McLean, Virginia.

Presented by the Northern Virginia Technology Council, the awards recognize financial leaders for their "outstanding achievement and excellence in promoting the Greater Washington Region's technology community."

"We extend our warmest congratulations to David for this well-deserved recognition of his many accomplishments," commented MAXIMUS CEO Richard A. Montoni. "David has been a trusted partner and an integral member of our senior executive committee. His valuable insights helped drive operational excellence and shape the Company's strategic direction for future growth."

"It is an honor to be a part of an organization like MAXIMUS because the services we provide through government health and human services programs impacts so many people's lives," said Walker. "I am proud of our success in consistently delivering value to our shareholders, which is a result of how well our management team exhibits both a shared commitment and true teamwork."
