CORVALLIS, Ore., June 8, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- Crown Electrokinetics ("Crown" or the "Company") (OTCQB: CRKN), has now commenced trading on the OTCQB under the symbol "CRKN." Crown Electrokinetics is the global leader in DynamicTint™. Originally invented by Hewlett-Packard (HP), its technology allows any glass surface to transition from clear to black in seconds. Crown's technology can also change a glass surface into any neutral color, including red, green, and blue. With applications to a wide array of windows, including commercial buildings, automotive sunroofs, and residential skylights, Crown partners with leading glass and film manufacturers, licensing its intellectual property for mass production. At the core of Crown's technology is a thin film that is powered by a slight electric charge which not only replaces common window tints but is also a more sustainable alternative to traditional window treatments. The company is supported by a robust patent portfolio.

"Since Crown was founded, our entire team has been working towards bringing our DynamicTint™ technology to the world," said Doug Croxall, Crown Electrokinetics Chief Executive Officer. "The commencement of trading on the OTCQB market is an important first step in offering better visibility and liquidity to the investment community."
