His Eminence Edward Cardinal Egan Applauds Satellite Radio Merger

Archbishop of New York Calls Merger a Unique Opportunity to Extend the Reach and Breadth of Religious Programming in America

WASHINGTON, July 20 /PRNewswire/ -- XM Satellite Radio (Nasdaq: XMSR) and SIRIUS Satellite Radio (Nasdaq: SIRI) today announce the support of His Eminence Edward Cardinal Egan, the Archbishop of New York, for their pending merger.

"We are extremely pleased to receive support from such a highly regarded and influential spiritual leader," said Gary Parsons, Chairman of XM, and Mel Karmazin, CEO of SIRIUS, in a joint statement.

In his opinion piece, published today in the New York Post, Cardinal Egan said, "The Catholic Channel and SIRIUS Satellite Radio present a unique opportunity for the Church to speak with people - Catholic and non-Catholic alike. I would urge all those who are considering the merger between SIRIUS and XM to see to it that this dialogue of faith can continue."

Both SIRIUS and XM offer numerous music, talk and entertainment channels of interest to the diverse tastes of America's people of faith. In addition to The Catholic Channel, SIRIUS offers the EWTN Global Catholic Network, featuring live call-in talk shows, daily devotions and informative teaching series. XM also offers a variety of faith-based programming, including The Message, America's home for Christian pop.

SIRIUS and XM look forward to continuing to build upon their relationship with faith-based content providers to offer high-quality programming to an even wider audience of religious listeners following the merger.
