Doctor Radio (SIRIUS channel 114 and XM channel 119): world-class pediatrician Perri Klass, MD -- Professor of Journalism and Pediatrics, NYU School of Medicine -- offers tips for the entire family to have a happy and healthy holiday on her weekly show, including: Costume safety -- make sure costumes are bright/light colors and/or have reflective tape on them, use non-toxic makeup instead of masks or oversized hats that can block vision, and wear comfortable shoes -- best bet is to have your child wear their own shoes as opposed to costume shoes. Neighborhood safety -- accompany your young children, plan the route for older kids going out on their own or with friends so you know where they are going, establish a specific time to be home, give your child a cell phone and make sure they know it's OK to call 911 if they feel unsafe or get lost. Use sidewalks, and follow the rules of the road (cross at corners, do not dart between cars or run across the lawn). Be aware of traffic rules as kids are 4.5 times more likely to be hit by a car on Halloween than on any other night of the year. Be aware of driveways, alleys, and roads and look both ways before crossing them. Trick-or-treating safety -- consider non-food treats such as coloring books and crayons -- this teaches kids that you can have fun without it being associated with food/sugar. October 28 at 2:00 pm ET and October 30 at 10:00 am ET.

RadioClassics (SIRIUS channel 118 and XM channel 164) -- the 24/7 channel dedicated to playing classic thrillers, mysteries, comedies, dramas and variety radio programs from the 30s, 40s and 50s -- treats listeners to a variety of classic monster radio including: Mercury Theater's 1938 edition of Bram Stoker's Dracula starring Orson Welles and its 1955 edition of Mary Shelley's Frankenstein; The Weird Circle's version of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde and The Werewolf; and Halloween humor from Ozzie and Harriet and Lucille Ball.
