Disclaimers

IN GENERAL. This disclaimer applies to this document and the verbal or written comments of any person presenting it. This document, taken together with any such verbal or written comments, is referred to herein as the "Presentation."

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS. Certain statements regarding New Residential Investment Corp. (together with its subsidiaries, "New Residential," the "Company" or "we"), in this Presentation may constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, including without limitation, regarding targeted lifetime IRRs and yields, expected or projected cash flows, projected accretion, expected returns, sustainability of earnings, potential for additional capital appreciation, continuing to simplify our business, MSRs and advances continuing to have low credit risk, the ability to access liquidity of $1.0 billion for future investments without raising equity, continued MSR shift from banks to non-bank servicers, expected shortening of callability timelines for call rights, projected overall callable balance of call rights, the ability to profit from our deal collapse strategy, investments benefiting from an increase in interest rates or an improving macro backdrop, the potential deployment of $1.0 billion to $1.5 billion for new investments in the near term, performance of residential loans and consumer loans, and statements regarding the Company's investment pipeline and investment opportunities. These statements are based on management's current expectations and beliefs and are subject to a number of trends and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements, many of which are beyond our control. New Residential can give no assurance that its expectations will be attained. Accordingly, you should not place undue reliance on any forward-looking statements made in this Presentation. For a discussion of some of the risks and important factors that could affect such forward-looking statements, see the sections entitled "Risk Factors" and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" in the Company's most recently filed reports on Form 10-Q and Form 10-K, which are available on the Company's website (www.newresi.com). In addition, new risks and uncertainties emerge from time to time, and it is not possible for the Company to predict or assess the impact of every factor that may cause its actual results to differ from those contained in any forward-looking statements. Such forward-looking statements speak only as of the date of this Presentation. New Residential expressly disclaims any obligation to release publicly any updates or revisions to any forward-looking statements contained herein to reflect any change in the Company's expectations with regard thereto or change in events, conditions or circumstances on which any statement is based.

CAUTIONARY NOTE REGARDING ESTIMATED / TARGETED RETURNS AND YIELDS. The Company calculates the estimated return/yield, or the IRR, of an investment as the annualized effective compounded rate of return (assuming monthly compounding) earned over the life of the investment after giving effect, in the case of returns, to existing leverage. Life-to-date IRR, including life-to-date IRRs on the overall MSR portfolio, servicer advance investments, non-agency securities portfolio, residential loans and consumer loans, is based on the purchase price for an investment and the estimated value of the investment, or "mark", which is calculated based on cash flows actually received and the present value of expected cash flows over the life of the investment, using an estimated discount rate. Targeted returns and targeted yields reflect a variety of estimates and assumptions that could prove to be incorrect, such as an investment's coupon, amortization of premium or discount, costs and fees, and our assumptions regarding prepayments, defaults and loan losses, among other things. Income and cash flows recognized by the Company in future periods may be significantly less than the income and cash flows that would have been recognized had expected returns been realized. As a result, an investment's lifetime return may differ materially from an IRR to date. In addition, the Company's calculation of IRR may differ from a calculation by another market participant, as there is no standard method for calculating IRRs. Statements about targeted returns and targeted yields in this Presentation are forward-looking statements. You should carefully read the cautionary statement above under the caption "Forward-looking Statements," which directly applies to our discussion of targeted returns and targeted yields.

PAST PERFORMANCE. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future results and should not be relied upon for any reason.

NO OFFER; NO RELIANCE. This Presentation does not constitute an offer to sell, or a solicitation of an offer to buy, any security and may not be relied upon in connection with the purchase or sale of any security. Any such offer would only be made by means of formal documents, the terms of which would govern in all respects. You should not rely on this Presentation as the basis upon which to make any investment decision.

Excess MSR_s - What Sets Us Apart From the Rest *

Achieved significant growth in Excess MSR_s, portfolio increased 67% QoQ, totaling $415 billion UPB

- Current portfolio consists mainly of well-seasoned and credit impaired Excess MSR_s
 - ✓ 85% of portfolio is credit impaired and 98% of portfolio is well-seasoned or recently recaptured ⁽¹⁾
- Portfolio is well positioned for a rising interest rate environment
 - ✓ Seasoned, credit-impaired borrowers with limited refinancing options
 - ✓ Stable prepayment speeds and cashflows despite changes in interest rates
- Have recapture provisions in place to protect returns in the event of a rise in voluntary prepayment rates

MSR Portfolio - Difficult to Replicate

1) "Credit-impaired" is defined by management as a category of borrowers that have loan-to-value ratios (usually less than 80%) and FICO scores (usually less than 680) that, in management's view, make it unlikely for such borrowers to be eligible for refinancing.

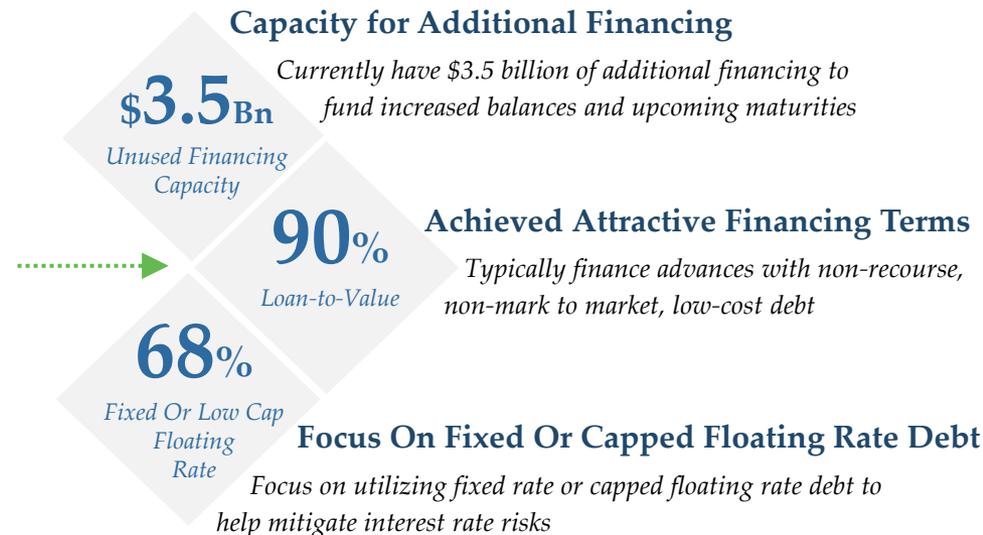

Servicer Advances - High Credit Quality Asset *

Servicer Advances portfolio totals $8.6 billion, nearly tripled quarter-over-quarter ⁽¹⁾

- NRZ receives a portion of the MSR's off of $239 billion UPB of Non-Agency loans as compensation for the advances
- The advances are funded with $7.7 billion of debt for a 90% LTV and a 2.2% interest rate ⁽¹⁾
 - 68% of debt is either fixed rate or has capped floating rate, which mitigates interest rate risks
- Life-to-date IRR of 28% on Advance Purchaser portfolio

Non-Agency Securities & Call Rights - Deal Collapse Opportunity

NRZ owns the clean-up call rights on Non-Agency deals with a total UPB of ~$200 billion ⁽¹⁾

- How do we make money? “Sum of the parts may be greater than the whole”
 - ✓ Purchase underlying bonds at a discount; which are paid off at par at the call
 - ✓ Exercise clean up call, purchasing loans at par plus expenses
 - ✓ Sell or re-securitize performing loans at a premium
 - ✓ Retain distressed loans to modify or liquidate over time

- As of the end of 2Q 2015, we have collapsed approximately $1.8 billion of UPB across 78 deals

Illustrative Deal Collapse: Unlocking Trapped Value ⁽²⁾⁽³⁾

Example is based on an illustrative $500 million UPB call transaction

	($ in millions)
1 Call rights become exercisable when current balance is equal to or lower than 10% of original balance
2 NRZ can exercise clean up calls when economical → Purchase loans at par (plus expenses)	($505)
3 NRZ will sell or re-securitize performing loans at a premium	$508
4 NRZ will hold on to non-performing loans at basis to achieve mid-teens returns	$2
Illustrative Loan Profit (A)	$5
5 Purchase Underlying bonds at a discount (at 90% of par on a $50mm purchase)	($45)
6 As owner of the bonds, NRZ will get paid off at par upon execution of call rights	$50
Illustrative Bond Discount Accretion (B)	$5
TOTAL ILLUSTRATIVE FUTURE PROFIT (A+B)	$10

1) Actual UPB of loans subject to call rights and any related economics may be materially lower than the estimates contained in this Presentation. See “Forward-Looking Statements.”

2) For illustrative purposes only. Not intended to be a forecast of any particular deal collapse or a forecast of the economic results that may be obtained from the opportunity as a whole. Actual results may differ materially, and could be materially lower than the illustrative results presented.

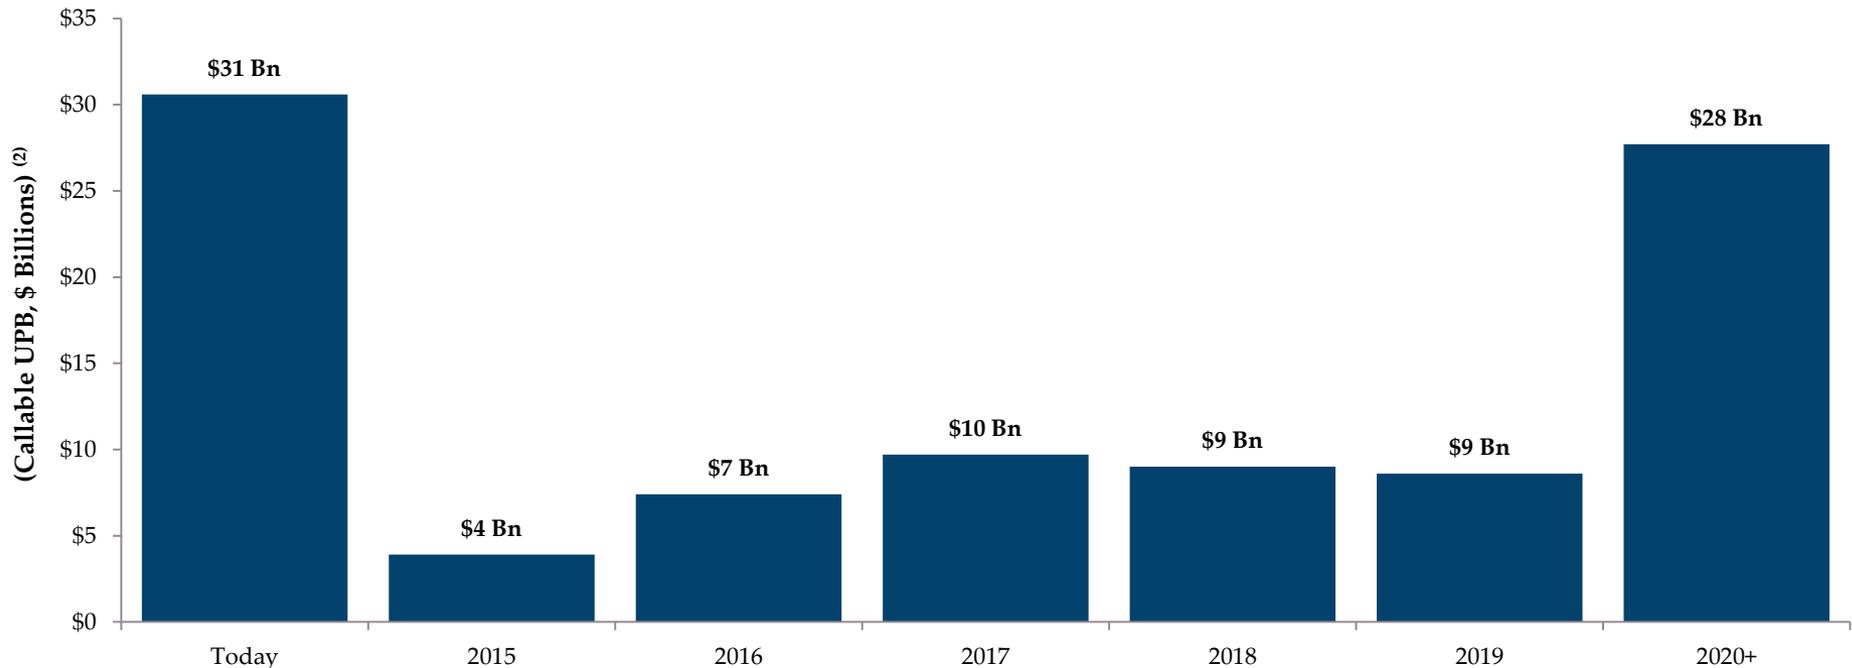

3) Profit is not realized until loans are sold, re-securitized, or realized over time through interest income.

Non-Agency Securities & Call Rights - Robust Pipeline

Our ~$200 billion UPB call rights, representing ~30% of the Non-Agency mortgage market, provide a robust and exclusive pipeline of callable deals ⁽¹⁾

- Expect sustainable earnings as a result of long-term deal pipeline
- Callability timelines should shorten as delinquencies decline
- At the time of call, we project callable balance to be $90 - $120 billion ⁽¹⁾⁽²⁾

1) Our call rights may be materially lower than the estimates in this Presentation and there can be no assurance that we will execute on this pipeline of callable deals in the near term, on the timeline presented above, or at all, or that callable deals will be economically favorable. The economic returns from this strategy could be adversely affected by a rise in interest rates and are contingent on the level of delinquencies and outstanding advances in each transaction, fair market value of the related collateral and other economic factors and market conditions. Call rights are usually exercisable when current loan balance is equal to, or lower than, 10% of its original balance.

2) Projected balances assume 15 CPR prepayment speed.

Excess MSR's - Market Opportunity Remains Robust

- Approximately $10 trillion mortgage servicing market ⁽¹⁾
- Historically dominated by banks; shift to non-banks will likely continue
 - Driven by operational pressure and regulatory capital requirements
 - Banks refocus on core businesses and customers
- We believe mortgage origination industry consolidation will continue as a result of higher capital costs
 - MSR sales expected to continue from both bank and non-bank servicers

GAAP Reconciliation of Core Earnings

- Management uses Core Earnings, which is a Non-GAAP measure, as one measure of operating performance.

Reconciliation of Non-GAAP Measures

Core Earnings

- We have four primary variables that impact our operating performance: (i) the current yield earned on our investments, (ii) the interest expense incurred under the debt incurred to finance our investments, (iii) our operating expenses and (iv) our realized and unrealized gains or losses, including any impairment and deferred tax, on our investments. “Core earnings” is a non-GAAP measure of our operating performance excluding the fourth variable above and adjusting the earnings from the consumer loan investment to a level yield basis. It is used by management to gauge our current performance without taking into account: (i) realized and unrealized gains and losses, which although they represent a part of our recurring operations, are subject to significant variability and are only a potential indicator of future economic performance; (ii) incentive compensation paid to our Manager; (iii) non-capitalized transaction-related expenses; and (iv) deferred taxes, which are not representative of current operations.
- While incentive compensation paid to our Manager may be a material operating expense, we exclude it from core earnings because (i) from time to time, a component of the computation of this expense will relate to items (such as gains or losses) that are excluded from core earnings, and (ii) it is impractical to determine the portion of the expense related to core earnings and non-core earnings, and the type of earnings (loss) that created an excess (deficit) above or below, as applicable, the incentive compensation threshold. To illustrate why it is impractical to determine the portion of incentive compensation expense that should be allocated to core earnings, we note that, as an example, in a given period, we may have core earnings in excess of the incentive compensation threshold but incur losses (which are excluded from core earnings) that reduce total earnings below the incentive compensation threshold. In such case, we would either need to (a) allocate zero incentive compensation expense to core earnings, even though core earnings exceeded the incentive compensation threshold, or (b) assign a “pro forma” amount of incentive compensation expense to core earnings, even though no incentive compensation was actually incurred. We believe that neither of these allocation methodologies achieves a logical result. Accordingly, the exclusion of incentive compensation facilitates comparability between periods and avoids the distortion to our non-GAAP operating measure that would result from the inclusion of incentive compensation that relates to non-core earnings.
- With regard to non-capitalized transaction-related expenses, management does not view these costs as part of our core operations. Non-capitalized transaction-related expenses are generally legal and valuation service costs, as well as other professional service fees, incurred when we acquire certain investments, as well as costs associated with the acquisition and integration of acquired businesses. These costs are recorded as “General and administrative expenses” in our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income.
- In the fourth quarter of 2014, we modified our definition of core earnings to include accretion on held-for-sale loans as if they continued to be held-for-investment. Although we intend to sell such loans, there is no guarantee that such loans will be sold or that they will be sold within any expected timeframe. During the period prior to sale, we continue to receive cash flows from such loans and believe that it is appropriate to record a yield thereon. This modification had no impact on core earnings in 2014 or any prior period. In the second quarter of 2015, we modified our definition of core earnings to exclude all deferred taxes, rather than just deferred taxes related to unrealized gains or losses, because deferred taxes are not representative of current operations. This modification was applied prospectively due to only immaterial impacts in prior periods.
- Management believes that the adjustments to compute “core earnings” specified above allow investors and analysts to readily identify the operating performance of the assets that form the core of our activity, assist in comparing the core operating results between periods, and enable investors to evaluate our current performance using the same measure that management uses to operate the business.
- The primary differences between core earnings and the measure we use to calculate incentive compensation relate to (i) realized gains and losses (including impairments), (ii) non-capitalized transaction-related expenses and (iii) deferred taxes (other than those related to unrealized gains and losses). Each are excluded from core earnings and included in our incentive compensation measure (either immediately or through amortization). In addition, our incentive compensation measure does not include accretion on held-for-sale loans and the timing of recognition of income from consumer loans is different. Unlike core earnings, our incentive compensation measure is intended to reflect all realized results of operations.
- Core earnings does not represent cash generated from operating activities in accordance with GAAP and therefore should not be considered an alternative to net income as an indicator of our operating performance or as an alternative to cash flow as a measure of our liquidity and is not necessarily indicative of cash available to fund cash needs.

Endnotes to Slide 4:

- 1) Ability to access liquidity refers to our belief that we have the ability to access approximately $1.0 billion of additional non-equity capital through an array of sources, including, but not limited to, our ability to obtain financing against approximately $1.5 billion of market value of currently unencumbered MSRs as of June 30, 2015. Our ability to obtain this access to liquidity is subject to a number of factors, including market conditions, company performance and our the willingness of capital providers to provide capital to us. For the avoidance of doubt, we do not currently have $1.0 billion of committed unused financing in place, and we cannot assure you that we will be able to obtain $1.0 billion of additional liquidity on attractive terms or at all. Please see “Forward-Looking Statements” at the beginning of this presentation.
- 2) Actual UPB of loans subject to call rights and any related economics may be materially lower than the estimates contained in this Presentation. See “Forward-Looking Statements.”
- 3) As of August 7, 2015. Hybrid REITs (or Hybrid Mortgage REITs) include: AMTG, CIM, DX, EFC, IVR, MFA, MITT, MTGE, NYMT, OAKS, TWO, and WMC. Agency REITs (or Agency Mortgage REITs) include: AGNC, ANH, ARR, CMO, CYS, HTS, and NLY. Selected industry peers represent a non-exhaustive list of publicly traded REITs that management believes are comparable to New Residential. The inclusion of other publicly traded companies could change the comparable average 2015 YTD stock performance. Determinations of comparability have been made by management based on New Residential’s current assets and commitments. Other industry participants may express a different view. A change in, or the diversification of, New Residential’s portfolio could change the appropriate set of comparable industry peers.

Committed investments and pipeline investments are also subject to varying degrees of diligence and there can be no assurance that we will complete any such investments. Some of these investments may have been identified or committed to subsequent to quarter end.*
