Sonim and Zello Team Up to Deliver Push-to-Talk on the Rugged XP3plus Flip Phone

Top Rated, One-Touch Push-to-Talk Application Now Available for Easy, Reliable Communications for Frontline Workers

AUSTIN, Texas, March 24, 2022 /PRNewswire/ --Sonim Technologies (Nasdaq: SONM) announced today that the Zello push-to-talk (PTT) application is now available on the low-cost, ultra-rugged XP3plus flip phone.

Frontline workers in freight, retail, construction, manufacturing, field service, hospitality, and public safety rely heavily on seamless, instant communications throughout their workday. The Zello application on the XP3plus provides a simple, durable, and reliable PTT solution that is easy to use and can stand up to harsh working conditions.

"Frontline workers need to stay connected to their teams at all times through simple, reliable communications. Using Zello on the XP3plus delivers on that promise through the touch of a button," said John Graff, Sonim chief marketing officer. "We are pleased to offer one of the most popular PTT applications on one of the most popular rugged mobile devices."

The Zello app is subscription-based, localized in 22 languages and offers unique features including an intuitive dispatch solution, real-time location tracking, secure private networks, end-to-end encryption, management features to control group channels, user access controls, and emergency alert, as well as analytics to help companies optimize workflows. In addition, Zello's enterprise-grade solution is available at no cost to first responders anywhere in the world.

"We are excited to announce this partnership with Sonim," said Alexey Gavrillov, chief product officer of Zello. "From drivers and dispatchers to retail, construction, healthcare, and first responder teams, Zello and Sonim together offer essential connectivity tools for essential work. We help teams get work done faster with increased safety."

The new Sonim XP3plus builds on the legacy of its ultra-rugged, and very popular, predecessor, the XP3, to deliver enhanced capabilities for those who need simple, fast and reliable voice communications in a compact package. The XP3plus can withstand drops from 1.5 meters onto concrete and be submerged in 1.5 meters of water for 30 minutes. Audio quality in Sonim devices is superior and the XP3plus is no exception. Large, tactile and glove-friendly PTT and Emergency/SOS buttons on the XP3plus offer instant fumble-free communication when it matters most. The 100dB+ ultra-loud and clear audio speaker with noise-cancellation is loud enough to be heard in the noisiest work environment or family gathering. It also comes with Sonim's industry-leading three-year comprehensive warranty.
