Hessam Nadji, president and CEO of Marcus & Millichap, stated: "MMI's long-term growth plan relies heavily on innovations related to training, employee and sales force productivity, engagement, and diversity. Mira's experience in these areas within the insurance industry, which has many similarities to real estate services, in addition to her background in the mortgage and technology industries, is invaluable."

As CHRO, Wolff will be responsible for all aspects of human resources for the firm and provide leadership and innovation to the company's sales force, management team, and support staff. She will work closely with the executive team to develop and execute a human resources strategy. "I am very excited for the opportunity to join the Marcus & Millichap team with its distinguished history of maximizing value for its clients," said Wolff. "I look forward to utilizing my expertise to enhance the firm's current sales force and management development programs, productivity, and educational tools. My primary focus will be to further engage our sales force and employees at every level, while continuing to foster the world-class work environment that makes Marcus & Millichap an industry leader."
