Internal Review; Future Filings

Additional details regarding the internal review and related matters can be found in the Form 8-K that the Company filed today with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The new executive leaders who are joining the Company will continue to evaluate certain internal control deficiencies identified as a result of the internal review. The Company expects management's review of internal control deficiencies to result in one or more material weaknesses that may relate to past periods. The Company cannot currently predict when this evaluation process will be completed but will seek to complete the evaluation process, take appropriate corrective actions and make necessary filings with the SEC with a view to becoming current in its filing obligations under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, as soon as reasonably practicable.

Operational Update

The Company's effectively utilized fleet count was approximately 25.1 fleets during the third quarter of 2019. Due to customer budget exhaustion, seasonality and overall softening industry demand, ProPetro currently estimates effective utilization in the fourth quarter will be 18 – 20 fleets.
