MINNEAPOLIS & REHOVOT, Israel--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Stratasys Ltd. (Nasdaq:SSYS), the 3D printing and additive manufacturing solutions company, announced financial results for the third quarter of 2016.

Q3-2016 Financial Results Summary:

- Revenue for the third quarter of 2016 was $157.2 million, compared to $167.6 million for the same period last year.
- GAAP gross margin was 46.9% for the third quarter, compared to a GAAP negative gross margin of 47.7% for the same period last year.
- Non-GAAP gross margin was 54.0% for the third quarter, compared to 50.8% for the same period last year.
- GAAP operating loss for the third quarter was $19.4 million, compared to a loss of $931.3 million for the same period last year.
- Non-GAAP operating income for the third quarter was $3.3 million, compared to non-GAAP operating loss of $10.0 million for the same period last year.
- GAAP net loss for the third quarter was $20.8 million, or ($0.40) per diluted share, compared to a loss of $901.3 million, or ($17.35) per diluted share, for the same period last year.
- Non-GAAP net income for the third quarter was $0.1 million, or $0.00 per diluted share, compared to Non-GAAP net income of $0.7 million, or $0.01 per diluted share, reported for the same period last year.

- Net R&D expenses for the third quarter amounted to $24.0 million, representing 15.3% of net sales.
- GAAP EBITDA for the third quarter amounted to $3.5 million.
- Non-GAAP EBITDA for the third quarter amounted to $12.0 million.

Recent Business Highlights:

- Announced that leading aircraft manufacturer Airbus is standardizing on ULTEM™ 9085 3D printing material for the production of flight parts for its A350 XWB aircraft.
- Showcased demonstrations of next generation manufacturing technologies at IMTS 2016, designed to spearhead strategic efforts in developing advanced manufacturing applications, including:
  - The Stratasys Infinite-Build 3D Demonstrator, developed with the Boeing Company and the Ford Motor Company, designed for low-volume production of large thermo-plastic parts.
  - The Stratasys Robotic Composite Demonstrator, developed with Siemens, designed for the automated production of composite material structures for advanced manufacturing applications.
- Launched and began shipping new MakerBot 3D printing solutions for professionals and educators, including:
  - The MakerBot Replicator+ and Replicator Mini+, which have been re-engineered and tested to provide improved performance and reliability.
  - MakerBot Print and Mobile software applications, which are designed to help professionals integrate MakerBot solutions into their workflows; and help educators introduce students to 3D printing.
  - Thingiverse Education, designed to provide educators with access to valuable classroom content created by other educators.
“The introductions of the Stratasys Infinite-Build and Robotic Composite 3D Demonstrators both evidence the unique long-term value of our core technologies and highlight the importance of strategic relationships in developing solutions that target specific, high-value added applications,” said Ilan Levin, Chief Executive Officer of Stratasys. “These innovations demonstrate our potential to meet the needs of customers by leveraging our core assets within key vertical markets. We believe these types of opportunities remain significant across multiple industries, and we are committed to seeking their further development.”

Financial Guidance:

Stratasys provided updated guidance regarding the Company’s prospective revenue and net income (loss) for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2016:

- Revenue guidance of $662 to $673 million.
- GAAP net loss of $76 to $71 million, or ($1.44) to ($1.35) per diluted share.
- Non-GAAP net income of $7 to $11 million, or $0.13 to $0.21 per diluted share.

Stratasys provided the following additional information regarding the Company’s prospective performance and strategic plans for fiscal 2016:

- Non-GAAP gross margin in a range of 54% to 55%.
- Non-GAAP operating margin of 3% to 4%.
- Non-GAAP Tax expense of $15 to $17 million, which includes the negative impact of the planned accounting treatment for tax valuation allowance.
- Capital expenditures are projected at $50 to $60 million.

Given the expected ongoing negative impact of not recording a tax benefit on U.S. tax losses on the Company non-GAAP net income, the Company believes that the rate of growth in its non-GAAP operating income will be the best measure of performance.

Non-GAAP earnings guidance excludes $59.0 million of projected amortization of intangible assets; $21.0 million of share-based compensation expense; $10.0 to $11.0 million in merger and acquisition related expense; and $7.0 to $8.0 million in reorganization and other related costs; and includes $15.0 million in tax expenses related to non-GAAP adjustments.

“We were pleased to recognize additional improvements to our operational efficiency during the period which was reflected in a reduction in non-GAAP operating expenses and increase in our non-GAAP gross margin compared to the same period last year,” continued Levin. “We will continue to seek further improvements in our cost structure as we strive to align our operations even more closely with our anticipated results.”

Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

The statements in this press release regarding Stratasys' strategy, and the statements regarding its projected future financial performance, including under the heading “Financial Guidance,” are forward-looking statements reflecting management's current expectations and beliefs. These forward-looking statements are based on current information that is, by its nature, subject to rapid and even abrupt change. Due to risks and uncertainties associated with Stratasys' business, actual results could differ materially from those projected or implied by these forward-looking statements. These risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to: any failure to efficiently and successfully integrate the operations of Stratasys, Inc. and Objet Ltd. after their merger as well as MakerBot, Solid Concepts, Harvest and GrabCAD after their acquisition or to successfully establish and execute effective post-acquisition integration plans; changes in the overall global economic environment; the impact of competition and new technologies; changes in the general market, political and economic conditions in the countries in which Stratasys operates; any underestimates in projected capital expenditures and liquidity; changes in Stratasys' strategy; changes in applicable government regulations and approvals; changes in customers' budgeting priorities; lower than expected demand for Stratasys' products and services; reduction in Stratasys' profitability due to shifting in its product mix into lower margin products or shifting in its revenues mix significantly towards its AM services business; costs and potential liability relating to litigation and regulatory proceedings; and those factors referred to in Item 3.D “Key Information - Risk Factors”, Item 4, “Information on the Company”, and Item 5, “Operating and Financial Review and Prospects” in Stratasys’ Annual Report for the year ended December 31, 2015, as well as in such Annual Report generally. Readers are urged to carefully review and consider the various disclosures made throughout (i) the Form 6-K attaching Stratasys’ unaudited, condensed consolidated financial statements as of, and for the quarter and nine months ended, September 30, 2016, and its review of its results of operations and financial condition for those periods, which has been furnished to the Securities and Exchange Commission, or SEC, on or about the date hereof, (ii) Stratasys’ 2015 Annual Report, and (iii) Stratasys’ other reports filed with or furnished to the SEC, which are designed to advise interested parties of the risks and factors that may affect its business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. Any guidance and other forward-looking statements in this press release are made as of the date hereof, and Stratasys undertakes no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as required by law.

Use of non-GAAP financial measures

The non-GAAP data included herein, which exclude certain items as described herein, are non-GAAP financial measures. Our management believes that these non-GAAP financial measures are useful information for investors and shareholders of our company in gauging our results of operations (x) on an ongoing basis after excluding merger and acquisition related expense and reorganization-related charges, and (y) excluding non-cash items such as stock-based compensation expenses, acquired intangible assets amortization, impairment of goodwill and other long-lived assets, changes in fair value of obligations in connection with acquisitions and the corresponding tax effect of those items, as well as, non-recurring changes of non-cash valuation allowance on deferred tax assets. These non-GAAP adjustments either do not reflect actual cash outlays that impact our liquidity and our financial condition or have a non-recurring impact on the income statement, as assessed by management. These non-GAAP financial measures are presented to permit investors to more fully understand how management assesses our performance for internal planning and forecasting purposes. The limitations of using these non-GAAP financial measures as performance measures are that they provide a view of our results of operations without including all items indicated above during a period, which may not provide a comparable view of our performance to other companies in our industry. Investors and other readers should consider non-GAAP measures only as supplements to, not as substitutes for or as superior measures to, the measures of financial performance prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP. Reconciliation between results on a GAAP and non-GAAP basis is provided in a table below.
