Salem Media Group Announces Departure of Chief Operating Officer David Evans

CAMARILLO, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Salem Media Group, Inc. (OTCQX: SALM) announced today that David Evans has stepped down from his role as Chief Operating Officer, effective August 31, 2025.

Evans joined Salem in 2000 as Chief Financial Officer, later serving as President of New Media, and ultimately as Chief Operating Officer for the past three years. Over his 25-year tenure, Evans played a significant role in shaping Salem's growth and direction. Notably, he led the company's successful follow-on offering in 2004 and spearheaded its expansion into digital media. Under his leadership, Salem launched and developed four major digital properties: Salem Web Network, Salem Church Products, Townhall Media, and Eagle Financial Publications.

Chief Executive Officer David Santrella commented, "David has been an important part of Salem's journey and we are deeply grateful for his dedication, professionalism, and leadership over the years."

Salem co-founder Ed Atsinger added, "David's impact on Salem has been profound. From his early days as CFO to his leadership in building our digital media presence, his contributions have helped define who we are today. We thank him for his many years of service and wish him continued success in the future."
