Lightbridge Provides Business Update and Announces First Quarter 2024 Financial Results

Conference Call on Friday, May 10th at 11 a.m. ET

RESTON, Va., May 09, 2024 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Lightbridge Corporation ("Lightbridge") (Nasdaq: LTBR), an advanced nuclear fuel technology company, announced its financial results for the first quarter ended March 31, 2024, and provided an update on the Company's continued progress.

Seth Grae, President & Chief Executive Officer of Lightbridge Corporation, commented, "Lightbridge has achieved a significant milestone under our strategic partnership project agreement at Idaho National Laboratory (INL). INL demonstrated the production of a partial-length rod sample using an alloy of depleted uranium and zirconium. INL and Lightbridge will work together to analyze the extruded rod to confirm the extrusion process parameters prior to performing additional extrusions using an alloy of depleted uranium and zirconium materials later this year. Next year, we plan to produce coupon samples for irradiation testing in the Advanced Test Reactor at INL using an alloy of enriched uranium and zirconium."

"Our advancement in nuclear fuel brings great potential towards extending the operational life of the fuel in reactors and introducing substantial safety benefits for today's reactors and for the emerging small modular reactors (SMRs) globally. We are also designing the fuel to enable adjustment of power output of SMRs in response to fluctuations in supply by wind and solar generation, for a zero-carbon electric grid."

"Looking ahead, Lightbridge is well positioned to capitalize on these opportunities. The increasing global demand for clean, reliable power, coupled with international initiatives set forth at COP28 to significantly increase nuclear capacity by 2050, presents substantial growth prospects for our technology," concluded Mr. Grae.
