Empery Digital Sets the Record Straight

AUSTIN, Texas--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Empery Digital Inc. (NASDAQ: EMPD) (the “Company” or “Empery Digital”) today released the following statement in response to Mr. Tice P. Brown’s letter to Empery Digital’s Board of Directors:

“Empery Digital is disappointed Mr. Brown continues to misrepresent and distort the facts to further his self-serving campaign. Firstly, Mr. Brown never had a conversation with the broker executing the Stock Repurchase Program on behalf of Empery Digital. In reality, Mr. Brown spoke with his Prime Broker who then approached Empery Digital about selling his shares. Mr. Brown intimated his interest in having his shares repurchased by the company but initially demanded a significant premium to NAV. Management attempted to reach an agreement with Mr. Brown as it believed such an agreement would be in the best interests of the Company and all its shareholders. It is disappointing Mr. Brown ended these conversations and issued his letter to advance his self-serving campaign.”

Ryan Lane, Co-CEO of Empery Digital, added, “It is the management team’s intention to continue to execute on behalf of shareholders and use our time and effort to increase shareholder value. This is a distraction and we will not be responding to Mr. Brown’s statements going forward.”

Empery Digital remains committed to maximizing per-share value and closing the NAV gap through opportunistic share repurchases at prices below NAV. The Company has adequate cash to execute share repurchases and maintain appropriate leverage ratios. Management intends to leverage existing cash balances and reduce its bitcoin holdings as needed to fund future share repurchases and potentially repay additional portions of outstanding borrowings.

About Empery Digital Inc.

Built on Principles, Powered by Bitcoin
