

February 26, 2010

ProLogis to Participate in Citi's 2010 Global Property CEO Conference

DENVER, Feb. 26 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- ProLogis (NYSE: PLD), a leading global provider of distribution facilities, announced today that it is participating in Citi's 2010 Global Property CEO Conference being held at The Breakers in Palm Beach, Florida, March 1-3, 2010. Walter C. Rakowich, chief executive officer for ProLogis, will participate in a roundtable discussion on the company at 9:05am Eastern Time on Tuesday, March 2. He will also participate in the From Crisis To Opportunity panel starting at 11:45am Eastern Time on Tuesday, March 2.

To listen to either event or to access a copy of the slides used in one-on-one meetings during the conference, please go to <http://ir.prologis.com/webcasts.cfm>. The company will discuss key drivers of its guidance for 2010, funds from operations (FFO), upside potential to core FFO and its asset redistribution strategy.

About ProLogis

ProLogis is a leading global provider of distribution facilities, with more than 475 million square feet of industrial space (44 million square meters) in markets across North America, Europe and Asia. The company leases its industrial facilities to more than 4,400 customers, including manufacturers, retailers, transportation companies, third-party logistics providers and other enterprises with large-scale distribution needs. For additional information about the company, go to <http://www.prologis.com>.

SOURCE ProLogis