Columbia Sportswear Company Reports Third Quarter 2008 Results and Spring 2009 Backlog

Highlights:

- * Third quarter 2008 consolidated net sales decreased 4 percent to $452.4 million, compared to third quarter 2007 net sales of $471.1 million.
- * Third quarter 2008 net income was $58.3 million, or $1.69 per diluted share, compared to net income of $62.6 million, or $1.72 per diluted share, for the third quarter of 2007.
- * The company expects fourth quarter 2008 net sales to decline 6-10 percent compared with the fourth quarter of 2007 and earnings per diluted share of approximately $0.60 - $0.70.
- * The company increased its guidance for fiscal 2008 earnings per diluted share to between approximately $2.80 and $2.90.
- * Global spring 2009 product backlog at September 30, 2008 totaled $370.9 million, 11 percent lower than backlog of $414.4 million at September 30, 2007; consolidated backlog, which includes fall 2008 product orders, was 7 percent lower at $645.1 million.
- * The board of directors declared a quarterly dividend of $0.16 per share, payable on November 26, 2008 to shareholders of record on November 13, 2008.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 23, 2008 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Columbia Sportswear Company (Nasdaq:COLM), a global leader in the active outdoor apparel and footwear industries, today announced net sales of $452.4 million for the quarter ended September 30, 2008, a decrease of 4 percent compared to net sales of $471.1 million for the same period of 2007.

Third quarter net income totaled $58.3 million, or $1.69 per diluted share, compared with net income of $62.6 million, or $1.72 per diluted share, for the same period of 2007.

The 4 percent decrease in third quarter 2008 net sales consisted of a 5 percent decline in U.S. net sales to $271.3 million, a 10 percent decline in EMEA region net sales to $78.2 million and a 2 percent decline in Canada net sales to $56.8 million, partially offset by 10 percent growth in LAAP region net sales to $46.1 million. Changes in foreign currency exchange rates compared with the third quarter of 2007 contributed 6 percentage points of benefit to the EMEA net sales comparison and were insignificant to the consolidated net sales comparison and the net sales comparisons of Canada and LAAP. (See "Geographical Net Sales" table below.)

Compared with the third quarter of 2007, third quarter 2008 outerwear and sportswear net sales each declined 3 percent to $208.6 million and $157.5 million, respectively; and footwear net sales declined 11 percent to $63.6 million. These declines were partially offset by a 3 percent increase in accessories and equipment net sales to $22.7 million. (See "Categorical Net Sales" table below.)

Compared with the third quarter of 2007, third quarter 2008 Columbia brand net sales decreased 5 percent to $395.2 million and Sorel brand net sales decreased 1 percent to $19.0 million. These decreases were partially offset by a 19 percent increase in Mountain Hardwear brand net sales to $35.2 million. Combined, net sales of Montrail and Pacific Trail brand products did not comprise a significant percentage of sales in the third quarter of either year. (See "Brand Net Sales" table below.)

The company ended the quarter with $145.3 million in cash and short-term investments, compared with $115.8 million at September 30, 2007. Accounts receivable declined $27.4 million, or 7 percent, to $366.2 million and inventories declined $19.2 million, or 6 percent, to $301.4 million, compared with September 30, 2007.

Tim Boyle, Columbia's president and chief executive officer, commented, "Our third quarter results benefited from improved gross margins, primarily from our sportswear and footwear categories, and sound expense control. We continue to maintain a solid balance sheet free of long term debt, enabling us to move forward as planned with investments in new retail stores and increased marketing."

Raising 2008 EPS Guidance

The company expects net sales in the fourth quarter of 2008 to decrease approximately 6 to 10 percent compared with last year's fourth quarter and expects fourth quarter diluted earnings per share of between approximately $0.60 to $0.70 compared to $1.26 in last year's fourth quarter, which included a tax benefit of $0.14 per diluted share.

The company now expects full year 2008 net sales to decline approximately 3 to 4 percent compared with 2007. However, based on earnings per share through September 30, 2008, the company raised its guidance for 2008 diluted earnings per share to between approximately $2.80 and $2.90.

Backlog

The company reported that as of September 30, 2008, spring 2009 backlog was $370.9 million, 11 percent lower than spring 2008 backlog of $414.4 million. The decline in backlog consisted of comparable percentage declines in the company's apparel and footwear product categories. U.S. backlog was down on a percentage basis in the mid-teens and EMEA backlog was down low-double digits. In the two smaller regions, lower backlog in Canada was more than offset by increased backlog in the LAAP region. Changes in currency exchange rates had an immaterial effect on the backlog comparisons.

Consolidated product backlog, which includes both global fall and spring orders at September 30, 2008, was $645.1 million, a decline of 7 percent compared with consolidated product backlog of $692.7 million at September 30, 2007.

Mr. Boyle commented, "We are disappointed with the decline in spring backlog, but believe it reflects, in part, continued efforts by our retail partners to reduce overall inventory. We expect incremental sales from our new retail stores to help offset a portion of that wholesale weakness."

Boyle concluded, "Despite a weak global retail environment, the outdoor market has been resilient and we've continued to generate growth through our international distributors and our subsidiaries in Japan and Korea. In addition, our Mountain Hardwear brand has generated consistent growth within the U.S. outdoor specialty channel where it is further establishing itself as the premier top-of-mountain brand. We are taking aggressive action across our organization to elevate our brands and capitalize on their long history of meeting the needs of the most demanding outdoor consumers. Our future will be defined by our renewed commitment to pioneering innovative products that resonate with consumers and that protect them better than any other alternative so they can enjoy their outdoor lifestyles year-round."

Q1 2009 Outlook

The dynamic nature of the current economic environment limits the company's visibility and its ability to predict future results. The decline in backlog is an indicator of lower wholesale revenues in the first quarter. In addition, the effects of foreign currency exchange rates may also amplify the revenue decline if the U.S. dollar continues to strengthen compared to certain foreign currencies. Incremental sales through the company's new and existing retail stores are expected to partially offset a portion of the expected decline in wholesale sales. Spring product sales have historically accounted for a minority of the company's full year business, making it difficult to project full year revenue and profitability levels until April when the company has more visibility into the fall season.

First quarter 2009 gross margins are expected to benefit from an increased mix of higher-margin sales from the company's owned retail stores and favorable hedged currency rates. The company expects to discuss these projections in greater detail in January 2009 when it reports results for the fourth quarter and full year 2008.

Share Repurchase Program

During the third quarter, the company repurchased approximately 902,000 shares of common stock at an aggregate purchase price of $34.8 million, and during the first week of October 2008, reached the limit of the board's prior authorizations with the repurchase of approximately 112,000 additional shares at an aggregate purchase price of $4.5 million.

At its regular October meeting, the company's board of directors authorized the repurchase of up to an additional $100 million of Columbia common stock in market or negotiated transactions. The repurchase program does not obligate the Company to acquire any specific number of shares or to acquire shares over any specified period of time.

Dividend

The board of directors approved a dividend of $0.16 per share, payable on November 26, 2008 to shareholders of record on November 13, 2008.

Forward-Looking Statements

This press release contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the federal securities laws, including statements regarding anticipated results, net sales, gross margins, cash flows, earnings, and strategic initiatives in future periods. Actual results could differ materially from those projected in these and other forward-looking statements. The company's expectations, beliefs and projections are expressed in good faith and are believed to have a reasonable basis, however, each forward-looking statement involves a number of risks and uncertainties, including those set forth in this press release, those described in the company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2007 and the company's most recently filed Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, under the heading "Risk Factors," and other risks and uncertainties that have been or may be described from time to time in other reports filed by the company, including reports on Form 8-K, Form 10-Q and Form 10-K. Potential risks and uncertainties that may affect our future revenues, earnings and performance and could cause the actual results of operations or financial condition of the company to differ materially from those expressed or implied by forward-looking statements in this release include: unfavorable economic conditions generally and weakness in consumer confidence; international risks, including changes in quotas and tariffs or other duties, political instability in foreign markets, exchange rate fluctuations, and trade disruptions; our ability to attract and retain key employees; the financial health of our customers and their continued ability to access credit markets to fund their ongoing operations; our ability to effectively deliver our products to customers in a timely manner; our reliance on product acceptance by consumers; the effects of unseasonable weather (including, for example, warm weather in the winter and cold weather in the spring, which affects consumer demand for the company's products); our ability to integrate and manage acquired businesses; our dependence on independent manufacturers and suppliers; our ability to source finished products and components at competitive prices from independent manufacturers in foreign countries that may experience unexpected periods of inflation, labor and materials shortages or other manufacturing disruptions; the effectiveness of our sales and marketing efforts; intense competition in the industry (which we expect to increase); business disruptions and acts of terrorism or military activities around the globe; the effective implementation and expansion of our distribution facilities; our ability to implement our strategic initiatives and retail expansion plans; the operations of our computer systems and third party computer systems; and our ability to establish and protect our intellectual property. The company cautions that forward-looking statements are inherently less reliable than historical information. We do not undertake any duty to update any of the forward-looking statements after the date of this release to conform them to actual results or to reflect changes in events, circumstances or our expectations. New factors emerge from time to time and it is not possible for the company to predict all such factors, nor can it assess the impact of each such factor or the extent to which any factor, or combination of factors, may cause results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statement.
