

Anebulo Pharmaceuticals Reports Recent Business Highlights and Announces Third Quarter Fiscal Year 2021 Financial Results

AUSTIN, Texas--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Anebulo Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (Nasdaq: ANEB) ("Anebulo" or the "Company"), a clinical-stage biotechnology company developing novel solutions for people suffering from cannabinoid intoxication and substance addiction, today reported recent business highlights and announced financial results for the fiscal year 2021 third quarter, ended March 31, 2021.

Business highlights for the quarter and recent weeks include the following:

- Completed an initial public offering (IPO) of 3,078,224 shares of common stock at $7.00 per share resulting in gross cash proceeds to the Company of approximately $20.2 million before deducting underwriting discounts, commissions and expenses. On May 7, 2021, the Company's common stock began trading on the Nasdaq Capital Market under the symbol ANEB.
- Management believes IPO net proceeds of $19.0 million provide adequate funding for the Company's planned business operations and clinical studies through December 31, 2022.
- Anebulo remains on track to commence a Phase 2 proof-of-concept clinical trial with ANEB-001 for the treatment of cannabinoid overdose in the fourth quarter of 2021 with anticipated topline results in the first half of 2022.
- The planned Phase 2 study will take place at a single site in the Netherlands. The study is expected to enroll 100 healthy volunteers with each to receive 10 mg of THC orally, and then randomized to one of three doses of ANEB-001 or placebo.
- The study has been approved by the necessary regulatory and ethics committee and contract research organization capacity has been secured.

Management Commentary

"The pricing of our IPO in May was a tremendous milestone for Anebulo as the capital we raised allows us to advance our lead drug candidate ANEB-001 for the treatment of patients with cannabinoid intoxication," stated Daniel Schneeberger, MD, Chief Executive Officer of Anebulo. "There are currently no effective therapies for the negative effects of cannabinoid intoxication and the unmet need to address this issue is growing in lockstep with an increasing number of states legalizing cannabis for medical and recreational use. The number of cannabis-associated emergency department visits has increased by 15% annually since cannabis legalization began in the U.S. and reached 1.7 million in 2018 according to our analysis of National Emergency Department Sample. Overdoses from the ingestion of edible products and synthetic cannabinoids and accidental pediatric overdoses, in particular, are indications with high unmet medical need. We believe ANEB-001 has the ability to reverse these adverse symptoms within one hour of administration.”

Anebulo believes ANEB-001 is an asset with a well-understood mechanism of action. ANEB-001 is a competitive antagonist at the human CB1 receptor with an affinity of 0.6nM with good oral bioavailability and brain penetration (brain:plasma ratio = 1.5). ANEB-001 has been shown to antagonize THC-induced hypolocomotion in mice, a CB1 receptor-mediated response.

ANEB-001 is being developed to be administered as an oral treatment in the form of a pill, capsule or tablet, reaches potentially therapeutic blood levels within 30 minutes and is believed to rapidly reverse the signs and symptoms of cannabinoid overdose in as little as one hour. Anebulo believes there is a low likelihood of drug-drug interactions as preclinical testing demonstrated that ANEB-001 does not inhibit the metabolic cytochromes 1A2, 2C9, 2C19, 2D6 and 3A4 at pharmacologically relevant concentrations. Anebulo is not aware of any competing products to reverse the symptoms of cannabinoid intoxication that are further along in the development process than ANEB-001.
