Ken d’Entremont, Chief Executive Officer of Medexus, commented, “We achieved record revenue of $16.4 million for the three months ended September 30, 2019, compared to $3.4 million for the same period last year. This improvement reflects continued unit sales growth, as well as the increased scale of the Company as a result of the acquisitions completed in October 2018. Specifically, Metoject® unit market demand increased 115%¹, Rasuvo™ unit market demand increased 15%², and Rupall™ unit market demand increased 66%³ over the same period last year. Despite the growing demand and unit sales growth for our products, net revenue for Rasuvo™ was impacted by the consolidation of several payers in the United States market, resulting in increased discounts and a reduction in the net selling price. We did not anticipate the pricing impact of this consolidation, which is industry wide and not unique to Medexus. The Company continues to analyze and monitor the impact of the consolidation and is considering the alternatives available to it to address the price reduction. We nevertheless anticipate sustained growth of Rasuvo™ units going forward, and plan to leverage our strong U.S. sales force by introducing new products through this channel, which we believe has the potential to drive significant value for shareholders going forward.”

Mr. d’Entremont continued, “Within the Canadian market, Metoject® continues to benefit from the initiation of public reimbursement in a number of provinces across Canada. At the same time, Rupall™ continues to gain market share versus generic anti-histamines. I am also pleased to report that Gliolan® was recently granted priority review status by Health Canada, which should significantly accelerate our path to approval. This follows the recent draft recommendation for public reimbursement of Gliolan® in Ontario by Health Quality Ontario. Once Gliolan® becomes a fully registered product, we expect it to gain much broader distribution in Canada, which represents a sizeable, underserved market opportunity. In the meantime, feedback from the medical community has been extremely positive.”

Mr. d’Entremont concluded, “Despite the impact on the margins of Rasuvo from the consolidation of payers in the U.S. market, we have experienced strong unit sales growth and continue to generate positive cash flow from operations. Looking ahead, we have built a highly scalable organization and look forward to leveraging our North American sales force by licensing additional products and through accretive acquisitions. As a result, we remain encouraged by the outlook for fiscal 2020, as illustrated by the fact we have repurchased over 600,000 shares year-to-date under the Company’s normal course issuer bid. At the same time, we have maintained a solid balance sheet with $25.4 million of cash and cash equivalents, as well as a working capital surplus of approximately $29.4 million as of September 30, 2019.”

Operational highlights:

- Metoject® Demand Growth - Metoject experienced strong unit market demand growth of 115%¹ in Q2 2020 as compared to Q2 2019. This is a continuing trend that has improved as we add additional strengths, like the 15 mg dose. Metoject is now publicly reimbursed in Canada, which allows access for a large group of patients who previously could not access the product.
- Rasuvo® Demand Growth – market demand of Rasuvo™ units increased by approximately 15%² in Q2 2020 as compared to Q2 2019. This growth reflects strong payer, prescriber and patient acceptance for Rasuvo™ in the United States. Management expects this growth to continue as prescribers adopt the most effective and convenient form of methotrexate for their patients. Management believes the Company is positioned as an emerging leader in the methotrexate auto-injector market.
- Rupall™ Demand Growth – market demand of Rupall™ units has shown very strong growth, increasing by 66%³ in Q2 2020 as compared to Q2 2019. This growth was a result of physicians switching patients from either the generic prescription antihistamines or over-the-counter products. The Company expects Rupall™ to be a leading prescription anti-histamine in a total market that is valued at $131.4 million, including $42.6 million from the prescription market, which is growing at annual rate of 17%⁴. During the three and six months ended September 30, 2019, Rupall™ was the fastest growing anti-histamine in the prescription market⁵.
