FOXO Technologies Inc. Subsidiary, Myrtle Recovery Centers, Recognized by the Rural Health Association of Tennessee for Outstanding Community Impact

WEST PALM BEACH, FL, Dec. 09, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- FOXO Technologies Inc. (OTC: FOXO) ("FOXO" or the "Company") today announced that its behavioral health subsidiary, Myrtle Recovery Centers, Inc., was recently recognized by the Rural Health Association of Tennessee ("RHA") at their Awards Luncheon during the Annual RHA Conference.

RHA celebrated Myrtle's ongoing engagement, willingness to share lessons learned, and its service to communities across Tennessee. The recognition comes after Myrtle celebrated two years of accepting patients in August marked by serving individuals from 63 of Tennessee's 95 counties reflecting the statewide need for accessible, recovery-focused care.

"This acknowledgment from RHA is deeply meaningful to our team," said Robert Merritt, MSN, RN, Chief Executive Officer of Myrtle Recovery Centers. "It reinforces the importance of expanding access to treatment in rural communities and is evidence of the results we are achieving with our treatment plan at Myrtle. We have been operating at capacity now for most of 2025 and look forward to increasing our capacity and footprint with additional facilities in the coming years."

Robert Merritt also served as a conference speaker, delivering an educational session on substance use disorder treatment, behavioral health, and the stigma that continues to impact rural communities.

"We are extremely proud of Myrtle and the impact it continues to make throughout Tennessee," said Seamus Lagan, Chief Executive Officer of FOXO. "This recognition affirms the essential role Myrtle plays in addressing behavioral health needs in rural communities and supports the business' growth strategy of replicating Myrtle's operating and care model throughout Tennessee."
