Singlepoint, Inc. Anticipates Success for Cannabis Mobile Payments in Light of U.S. Government's Issuance of Rules for Banks on Dealing With Legal Marijuana Vendors

PHOENIX, AZ -- (Marketwired) -- 02/14/14 -- Singlepoint, Inc. (OTC: SING), a state-of-the-art mobile technology company and full-service mobile marketing company that has recently announced entry into the mobile payment systems for the medical marijuana industry, is pleased to announce that the Justice Department and U.S. Treasury have published documents issued to mitigate concerns for banks in doing business with state-legal marijuana companies.

Singlepoint CEO Greg Lambrecht is pleased with the timely news as it directly impacts the likelihood of success for the launch of Singlepoint's Mobile Payment technology, which will include an array of products for marijuana industry players. "This is big news," he states. "Only a month ago, U.S. Attorney General, Eric Holder, stated that the Obama administration would be announcing regulations to make it easier for banks to do business with marijuana vendors, and today we get news that further eases bank concerns in terms of accepting banking business from Marijuana-centric companies."

He continues, "This impacts us directly in terms of overall potential for success in the Cannabis industry as we have launch-ready products positioned to improve overall efficiency for both buyers and sellers of legalized (State) Marijuana, including our mobile payments IP."

In light of the recent USDOJ news, Singlepoint looks to strategically announce other products it has developed and/or planned for development to service the rapid-growing legalized Marijuana industry.

Medical marijuana is now legal in 20 states and the District of Columbia. Of those states, Washington and Colorado have legalized marijuana for recreational use. ArcView Market Research projects the legal marijuana industry has the potential to reach $10.2 billion by 2018 as more states legalize cannabis.
