SinglePoint, Inc. Teams With Motivity Labs in Joint Venture on Mobile App Development for Cannabis Industry and Beyond

PHOENIX, AZ -- (Marketwired) -- 02/27/14 -- SinglePoint, Inc. (OTC: SING), a state-of-the-art mobile technology company and full-service mobile marketing company, announces today a joint venture with mobile application development company Motivity Labs, a global expert in mobile app development and cloud computing.

Motivity's projects include development and testing efforts for the largest software companies in the world, major wireless operators, global mobile manufacturers and enterprise security product companies. They have also built and tested mobile applications for over 300 start-ups across the globe including portfolio companies of the most prominent private equity and venture capital firms in Silicon Valley.

The joint venture will enable both companies to expand upon their mobile development initiatives. Motivity Labs will initially focus on building out the application SinglePoint has designed for use in the Legal Cannabis industry, eventually developing apps across all SinglePoint mobile payment verticals including mobile donations, mobile auctions and more.

"The joint venture with Motivity is very exciting for all involved," states SinglePoint CEO Greg Lambrecht. "The new app developments will give us the ability to offer multiple methods to accept payments, and will be a huge value add to our current customers as well as potential customers."

Mobile based transactions, including mobile payments "is going to grow explosively in the next few years," states a BI Intelligence report recently.

Motivity Labs and SinglePoint believe that working together will produce amazing developments particularly realizing that the combination of SinglePoint's merchant services and Pay by Text™ along with Motivity Labs specialized application development could bring about the potential for direct competition with companies such as Square and Inuit.
