Stonestrom Appointed Chairman

Airspan's CEO Eric Stonestrom has been appointed chairman of the Company's board of directors. He replaces Tom Huseby, who continues to serve on the board.

Supply Chain Update

Demand for our products is strong, though supply chain challenges are still leading to increasingly long lead times. We continue to work hard in a number of ways to mitigate these challenges, finding alternative components, instituting multiple technological design changes and working closely with our partners. In this environment supply chain pressures center primarily around component availability, higher spot purchase prices for hardware components and increased shipping costs. While we have begun to pass some of these expenses on to customers through price increases, we expect the increased cost impact of components and freight to continue. We anticipate such supply chain challenges to extend through 2022.

Relationships with Some of the Tech World's Most Admired Companies: Cisco, Dell, HPE and Qualcomm

"We are seeing an explosion of interest in enterprise 5G private network solutions," said Airspan Chairman and CEO Eric Stonestrom. "In conjunction, we recently announced several key partnerships and working relationships with some of tech's most admired companies, while at Mobile World Congress. These partnerships include Cisco, Dell, HPE and Qualcomm, as we ramp up our private networks capabilities and portfolio."

New President/COO Named to Execute Growth Strategy

Airspan recently named Glenn Laxdal as its new President and COO, to execute the growth strategy and scale the business, overseeing operations, customer service and product management divisions, along with the Broadband Airspan by Mimosa organization. Laxdal is a senior technology executive with over 25 years of global experience in the wireless, software and computing industries.

"Bringing on the right leaders with the ability and experience to execute on our aggressive plans is a critical component of our strategy for long-term, sustainable growth," said Stonestrom. "Glenn is focused on accelerating our plans to grow revenue and market share to take advantage of the tremendous market opportunities for 5G, Open RAN, Private Networks and Fixed Wireless Access (FWA) solutions."

Business Outlook

We anticipate first quarter 2022 revenue of approximately $38 million with gross margin of approximately 32%. Both figures were impacted by significant supply chain costs and challenges from COVID-19 restrictions in Asia.

The information with respect to first quarter 2022 above is preliminary, based upon Airspan's estimated and currently available information and is subject to revision based upon, among other things, Airspan's financial closing procedures. The Company's actual results may differ from these estimates due to the completion of its financial closing procedures and final adjustments and other developments that may arise between the date of this news release and the time the Company's condensed consolidated financial statements for the first quarter 2022 are completed.
