

February 27, 2007

Equifax to Present at Morgan Stanley Technology Conference

ATLANTA, Feb. 27 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- Equifax Inc. (NYSE: EFX) today announced that its Chief Financial Officer Lee Adrean will present at the 2007 Morgan Stanley Technology Conference at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco. On Wednesday, March 7 at 7:30 p.m. ET, Adrean will discuss Equifax's financial profile and strategy for leveraging its industry-leading technology and unique data assets to drive sustainable growth.

(Logo: <http://www.newscom.com/cgi-bin/prnh/20060224/CLF037LOGO>)

A live Web cast of Equifax's presentation will be available at www.equifax.com. An audio replay of the Web cast and presentation will be archived on the Equifax corporate Web site through March 2007.

About Equifax (www.equifax.com)

Equifax is a global leader in information technology that enables and secures global commerce with consumers and businesses. The company is one of the largest sources of consumer and commercial data. Utilizing its databases, advanced analytics and proprietary enabling technology, Equifax provide real- time answers for our customers. This innovative ability to transform information into intelligence is valued by customers across a wide range of industries and markets. Headquartered in Atlanta, Georgia, Equifax employs approximately 4,900 people in 14 countries throughout North America, Latin America and Europe. Equifax was founded 108 years ago, and today is a member of Standard & Poor's (S&P) 500(R) Index, and its common stock is traded on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol EFX.

SOURCE Equifax Inc.