ShotSpotter, Inc. Selected as AO Global 250 Winner by AlwaysOn

Company Recognized for Technological Innovation and Global Market Potential

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--

ShotSpotter, Inc., the world leader in gunshot detection and location systems (GLS) for public safety and the military, has been chosen by AlwaysOn as one of the AO Global 250 Winners. ShotSpotter was selected by the AlwaysOn editorial board and a panel of industry experts spanning the globe for their pioneering efforts in five key categories: innovation, market potential, commercialization, stakeholder value, and media buzz. Inclusion in the AO Global 250 signifies major developments in the creation of new business opportunities in the global technology industries.

Credited with reducing gunfire rates by nearly 60 to 80 percent and violent crime by 35 percent in the cities where it is deployed, the ShotSpotter GLS is a mission-critical tool used by public safety, homeland security and military organizations nationwide to accurately detect, locate, and alert police and military personnel to the location of gunfire and other explosive events. Event audio and incident information provides situational awareness to first responders and can be used to strategically target illegal gunfire activity.

"ShotSpotter was founded on the pioneering vision that technology can make the world a safer place" said James G. Beldock, president and chief executive officer at ShotSpotter, Inc. "Today, thirty cities across the US rely on the ShotSpotter GLS to provide the broadest range of gunshot location and detection technology performance and customer service tools available. Our system and its applications span communities, critical infrastructure, urban battlegrounds, and campuses, giving our customers a variety of solutions to manage, optimize, and secure the entire city environment while further differentiating us from the competition. The AO Global 250 Award recognizes ShotSpotter's technological and business achievements as well as our continued tradition of thought leadership and technological innovation."

The award announcement came as part of the AlwaysOn & STVP Summit at Stanford scheduled to occur on July 22-24, 2008 at Stanford University. This two-and-a-half day executive event highlights the significant economic, political, and commercial trends disrupting the global technology industries, and features the most innovative companies, eminent technologists, influential investors and journalists in keynote presentations, panel debates and private company CEO showcases.

About ShotSpotter, Inc. (www.shotspotter.com)

ShotSpotter is an industry leader in the development of innovative, interoperable net-centric gunshot, sniper-detection and location systems for the law enforcement and military markets. The company's focus on ingenuity and technological vision drives its continuing mission to create invaluable solutions that reduce gunfire and gun violence while improving the safety of first responders on the street and soldiers on the front. Currently, the ShotSpotter Gunshot Location System(R) protects many cities nationwide, consistently producing arrests and weapons confiscations. Its individually worn sniper detection and location system identifies and tracks friendly military forces, providing dismounted forces with real-time situational awareness (SA) to aid in maneuvers, reduce fratricide, add to a mission's common operating picture, and support after-action review.
