definition audio formats.

“Our Monaco 5.1.2 is designed to bring the joy of cinema sound to any home environment, whether it be hearing dragons swooping overhead or feeling like you're at the big game. Our immersive audio solution, coupled with a simple plug-and-play setup, makes it easier than ever to experience rich, crystal-clear sound,” said Kevin McDonald, Senior Vice President of Marketing at Platin Audio. “We are honored to have our latest system recognized among the best new audio products before it even hits shelves.”

The BEST Award winners were announced during the CEDIA Expo today. All entries were judged on innovation, functionality, competitive advantages and benefits to the installer by industry leaders, along with the editors of CE Pro.

“2022 has been an amazing year as the custom electronics industry rebounded from the pandemic and battled the supply chain, yet the manufacturers responded with incredible ingenuity and perseverance,” says Arlen Schweiger, executive editor of CE Pro, the leading trade publication for the custom electronics smart home industry. “Homeowners rely on integrators to identify and install the right solutions to meet their needs. The BEST Awards recognize the companies that are developing these innovative technologies and elevating the home experience.”

The system will retail for $1,499 at select stores nationwide and online beginning mid-October. Pre-ordering is currently available here.
