Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This press release contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. In some cases, forward-looking statements can be identified by terminology such as "acquisitions," "could," "expand," "expect," "extend," "future," "growing," "intend," "may," "plan," "potential," "project," "strategy," "will," and "when," or the negative of such terms or other comparable terminology used in connection with any discussion of future plans, actions, events or discussions of strategy. Forward-looking statements relating to our plans to expand our product offerings in Kazakhstan include, but are not limited to: statements regarding the benefits of new product offerings and potential acquisitions, including anticipated growth, potential synergies with existing products we offer and future performance; our plans, objectives, and expectations; our ability to negotiate, execute and close definitive acquisition agreements and the timing of such acquisitions; our ability to receive required regulatory approvals and consents; anticipated acquisition costs and sources of funds to make acquisitions; and other statements relating to potential acquisitions that are not historical facts.

Forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance and involve risks and uncertainties. These risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to the risk that: we may not be successful in completing potential acquisitions on favorable terms or at all; we may be unable to obtain required governmental and regulatory approvals and third party consents to complete acquisitions, that regulators may impose restrictions on product offerings as a condition to approval, or that delays in receipt of approvals or consents could materially impact the projected economic benefit of a potential acquisition or cause the parties to abandon an acquisition entirely; the risk that an acquisition target may not be integrated within our projected time frame or budget; the risk that anticipated growth, synergies or cost savings may not be fully realized or may take longer to realize than expected; or management's time and efforts may be diverted from other matters to complete potential acquisitions. If any of the contemplated acquisitions are completed, we will be subject to additional risks and uncertainties including: our ability to comply with new regulatory regimes that potential acquisition targets are subject to; our ability to compete effectively in new lines of business we have not previously conducted; our ability to retain and hire key personnel; and our reliance on the current employees of potential acquisition targets.

Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date hereof, as actual results could differ materially as a result of various factors discussed above or others that we may not have identified. All forward-looking statements apply only as of the date made. We undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date any such forward-looking statements are made or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events, new information or otherwise.
