“Jeff is an accomplished leader in directing sales organizations through all phases of the market cycle,” said Bud Brigham, Chairman at Atlas Sand. “He is a great addition to our commercial leadership team led by our recently appointed Chief Commercial Officer, Jon Tutuncu. Jeff’s breadth of understanding of unconventional asset lifecycle will greatly enhance Atlas’s pursuit of customer-focused technology and automation solutions and I am confident he will bring creative approaches to new business generation going forward,” he added.

“I am very excited to be a member of Atlas Sand’s leadership team as we pursue more economic and ESG aligned solutions to energy development in the Permian Basin,” Jeff stated. “In all my roles over the last 20 years, success was always predicated on the ability to collaborate with key stakeholders, both internally and externally, to provide meaningful solutions to both Company and Client. Atlas Sand’s combination of Oil & Gas Operator and OFS experience, coupled with some of the best talent in the sand mining industry, give us a truly unique understanding of customers’ needs and how to deliver sustainable solutions,” he added.

Jeff joins Atlas Sand with executive leadership experiences at Halliburton and other Oilfield Service entities where he was responsible for profitable sales growth, operational execution and sustainable client relationship development. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Petroleum Engineering from Colorado School of Mines and has sat on several industry advisory boards.
