Third Quarter 2015 & Subsequent Highlights:

- Servicer Advances -
 - $1.5 Billion Servicer Advance Securitization - During the quarter, New Residential closed a $1.5 billion servicer advance securitization, the first widely marketed servicer advance securitization in the past 18 months. Through the securitization, New Residential issued $800 million of fixed rate notes; benefits of the financing include reduction of the Company's interest rate exposure, lower cost of funds and improved advance rates.

- Repayment of $2.5 Billion HSART Term Notes at Par- On October 2, 2015, New Residential repaid $2.5 billion of term notes issued by the HLSS Servicer Advance Receivables Trust ("HSART") by accessing $4 billion of previously secured surplus servicer advance financing commitments from its lenders. Under New Residential's surplus funding commitments, the Company was able to increase advance rates by approximately 6% and free up approximately $200 million of additional liquidity.
- Servicer Advance Investments - During and subsequent to the third quarter, New Residential purchased approximately $300 million of servicer advance debt, and expects mid-teens IRR.
- Non-Agency Securities & Call Rights - New Residential continued to execute on its deal collapse strategy by exercising clean-up call rights on seven seasoned, Non-Agency deals totaling $216 million UPB in the third quarter and initiating the exercise of clean-up call rights on an additional 14 seasoned Non-Agency deals totaling $350 million UPB subsequent to quarter end.
- Excess MSRs - Subsequent to quarter end, New Residential funded previously announced commitments on $19 billion UPB of legacy MSRs, with an additional $6 billion UPB of commitments to settle. In addition, the Company recently obtained eligibility to own MSRs across 30 U.S. states, with remaining state and Agency approvals currently expected in 4Q 2015 and 1H 2016. ⁽¹⁾
- FHLB Membership - New Residential is currently seeking membership to the Cincinnati Branch of the Federal Home Loan Bank, which the Company expects will help lower borrowing costs and increase financing flexibility.
- Dividend Increase - On September 22, 2015, New Residential announced an increase to its regular quarterly cash dividend to $0.46 per common share in the third quarter of 2015, from $0.45 per common share for the second quarter of 2015. This marks the second time New Residential has increased the quarterly dividend this year.
- Appointment of New Chief Financial Officer - On September 22, 2015, New Residential announced the appointment of Nicola Santoro, Jr. as the Company's new Chief Financial Officer. Mr. Santoro succeeded Jonathan Brown, who served as New Residential's Interim Chief Financial Officer since October 2014. Mr. Brown remains at New Residential in his role as Chief Accounting Officer.

(1) Eligibility obtained as of the date of this press release relates to Non-Agency MSRs only.

CORE EARNINGS

New Residential has four primary variables that impact the Company's operating performance: (i) the current yield earned on the Company's investments, (ii) the interest expense incurred under the debt incurred to finance the Company's investments, (iii) the Company's operating expenses and taxes and (iv) the Company's realized and unrealized gains or losses, including any impairment and deferred tax, on the Company's investments. "Core earnings" is a non-GAAP measure of the Company's operating performance excluding the fourth variable above and adjusting the earnings from the consumer loan investment to a level yield basis. It is used by management to gauge the Company's current performance without taking into account: (i) realized and unrealized gains and losses, which although they represent a part of the Company's recurring operations, are subject to significant variability and are only a potential indicator of future economic performance; (ii) incentive compensation paid to the Company's Manager; (iii) non-capitalized transaction-related expenses; and (iv) deferred taxes, which are not representative of current operations.

While incentive compensation paid to the Company's Manager may be a material operating expense, the Company excludes it from core earnings because (i) from time to time, a component of the computation of this expense will relate to items (such as gains or losses) that are excluded from core earnings, and (ii) it is impractical to determine the portion of the expense related to core earnings and non-core earnings, and the type of earnings (loss) that created an excess (deficit) above or below, as applicable, the incentive compensation threshold. To illustrate why it is impractical to determine the portion of incentive compensation expense that should be allocated to core earnings, the Company notes that, as an example, in a given period, the Company may have core earnings in excess of the incentive compensation threshold but incur losses (which are excluded from core earnings) that reduce total earnings below the incentive compensation threshold. In such case, the Company would either need to (a) allocate zero incentive compensation expense to core earnings, even though core earnings exceeded the incentive compensation threshold, or (b) assign a “pro forma” amount of incentive compensation expense to core earnings, even though no incentive compensation was actually incurred. The Company believes that neither of these allocation methodologies achieves a logical result. Accordingly, the exclusion of incentive compensation facilitates comparability between periods and avoids the distortion to the Company’s non-GAAP operating measure that would result from the inclusion of incentive compensation that relates to non-core earnings.

With regard to non-capitalized transaction-related expenses, management does not view these costs as part of the Company’s core operations. Non-capitalized transaction-related expenses are generally legal and valuation service costs, as well as other professional service fees, incurred when the Company acquires certain investments, as well as costs associated with the acquisition and integration of acquired businesses, including any litigation settlement expense. These costs are recorded as “General and administrative expenses” in the Company’s Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. “Other (income) loss” set forth above excludes $8.5 million accrued during the nine months ended September 30, 2015 related to a reimbursement from Ocwen for certain increased costs resulting from further S&P servicing rating downgrade of Ocwen.

In the fourth quarter of 2014, the Company modified the Company’s definition of core earnings to include accretion on held-for-sale loans as if they continued to be held-for-investment. Although the Company intends to sell such loans, there is no guarantee that such loans will be sold or that they will be sold within any expected timeframe. During the period prior to sale, the Company continues to receive cash flows from such loans and believe that it is appropriate to record a yield thereon. This modification had no impact on core earnings in 2014 or any prior period. In the second quarter of 2015, the Company modified the Company’s definition of core earnings to exclude all deferred taxes, rather than just deferred taxes related to unrealized gains or losses, because deferred taxes are not representative of current operations. This modification was applied prospectively due to only immaterial impacts in prior periods.

Management believes that the adjustments to compute “core earnings” specified above allow investors and analysts to readily identify the operating performance of the assets that form the core of the Company’s activity, assist in comparing the core operating results between periods, and enable investors to evaluate the Company’s current performance using the same measure that management uses to operate the business.

The primary differences between core earnings and the measure the Company uses to calculate incentive compensation relate to (i) realized gains and losses (including impairments), (ii) non-capitalized transaction-related expenses and (iii) deferred taxes (other than those related to unrealized gains and losses). Each are excluded from core earnings and included in the Company's incentive compensation measure (either immediately or through amortization). In addition, the Company's incentive compensation measure does not include accretion on held-for-sale loans and the timing of recognition of income from consumer loans is different. Unlike core earnings, the Company's incentive compensation measure is intended to reflect all realized results of operations.

Core earnings does not represent and should not be considered as a substitute for, or superior to, net income, net income per share of common stock as a substitute for, or superior to, cash flow from operating activities, each as determined in accordance with U.S. GAAP, and the Company's calculations of this measure may not be comparable to similarly entitled measures reported by other companies.
