Dynamic Veterans Organization, SoldierSocks, to be Honored at Red Sox/Yankees Game Tonight

Stamford, CT, Aug. 31, 2015 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

DYNAMIC VETERANS ORGANIZATION, SOLDIERSOCKS, TO BE HONORED AT RED SOX/YANKEES GAME

(Boston, Massachusetts) SoldierSocks, one of the fastest growing veteran's organizations in the nation, will be honored for its work, by the Boston Red Sox. SoldierSocks provides advanced rehabilitation technology to give post-9/11 injured veterans take their next steps forward. The organization, together with a local injured veteran, will be recognized at the Red Sox/Yankees game on Monday, August 31 at Fenway Park. During the fourth inning, Chris Meek, co-founder and CEO of SoldierSocks, will join David Bronson, an Iraq war veteran who has been specially fitted BiOM prosthetic ankle to help him walk again, on the field for a special tribute and veteran's salute.

"We are honored to be recognized by such a prestigious organization as the Boston Red Sox to help spread the word about SoldierSocks and the work we do for America's injured veterans," said Chris Meek. "This impressive platform will enable us to deliver our message to tens of thousands of people. We're hoping they'll be encouraged to join us in our mission to give access to thousands of additional injured veterans to the life changing advanced rehabilitation we provide," he said.

On August 31 at Fenway Park in Boston, SoldierSocks (soldiersocks.org) will also officially announce its new partnership with Boston-based sporting goods company, New Balance.

SoldierSocks is committed to helping post-9/11 injured veterans take their next steps forward by making available cutting-edge medical device technology in advanced rehabilitation. Already, SoldierSocks has given over 20,000 severely injured and paralyzed veterans access to life changing advanced medical devices. SoldierSocks also helps veterans by providing scholarship opportunities at some of America's finest universities, colleges and trade schools. SoldierSocks is a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit, founded in 2009.
