

HUNTSMAN CORPORATION

STOCKHOLDER COMMUNICATIONS POLICY

Effective as of May 4, 2022

Stockholders and other interested parties may communicate directly and confidentially with the Chairman of the Board, the full Board of Directors, the Independent Directors, or the Vice Chair and Lead Independent Director by sending a letter addressed to the intended recipients, c/o Corporate Secretary, Huntsman Corporation, 10003 Woodloch Forest Drive, The Woodlands, Texas 77380 or by sending an email specifying the intended recipients to CorporateSecretary@huntsman.com. The Corporate Secretary will review such communications and, if appropriate, forward them only to the intended recipients. Communications that do not relate to the responsibilities of the intended recipients as Directors of Huntsman Corporation (such as communications that are commercial or frivolous in nature) will not be forwarded. In addition, communications that appear to be unduly hostile, intimidating, threatening, illegal or similarly inappropriate will not be forwarded. Communications that are not forwarded will be retained by the Corporate Secretary and available for review by the intended recipients upon request.

Any communication received pursuant to this policy that references or raises a possible violation of the Huntsman Business Conduct Guidelines (the “Guidelines”) or raises similar concerns will be forwarded to the Chief Compliance Officer in addition to the intended recipients of the communication.
