BioSig & Streamex Appoint Parcl Co-Founders Trevor Bacon and Kellan Grenier as Strategic Advisors

Los Angeles, CA & Vancouver, BC, June 09, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- BioSig Technologies, Inc. (Nasdaq: BSGM) ("BioSig"), which acquired Streamex Exchange Corporation as its wholly owned subsidiary ("Streamex") in May 2025, is pleased to announce the appointment of Trevor Bacon and Kellan Grenier, co-founders of Parcl, as Strategic Advisors. Together, they bring deep expertise at the intersection of decentralized finance, synthetic asset creation, and real-world asset tokenization.

Parcl is a leading blockchain-native platform that enables users to gain exposure to real estate markets through synthetic, perpetual trading. Built on Solana, the platform offers users the ability to speculate on real estate price movements across major cities without owning physical properties. Under Trevor and Kellan's leadership, Parcl has become one of the most advanced protocols focused on bridging real estate and decentralized finance.

Trevor Bacon is the CEO and Co-Founder of Parcl. Before launching the company, he spent over a decade in finance, including roles at Barclays and serving as a portfolio manager at several hedge funds where he led investments in technology, payments, and internet companies.

Kellan Grenier, Co-Founder and COO of Parcl, brings extensive experience as a long/short equity analyst in the TMT sector and has been deeply involved in blockchain technology for over five years. His focus at Parcl spans strategic partnerships, tokenomics, and platform expansion.

"Trevor and Kellan are true innovators in the space," said Henry McPhie, CEO of BioSig and Co-Founder of Streamex. "Their experience building one of the most forward-thinking decentralized trading platforms makes them an ideal fit for BioSig and Streamex's mission. Their insights will be instrumental as we scale our infrastructure for tokenizing and trading real-world assets, particularly in illiquid and fragmented markets."

Trevor Bacon commented, "We're excited to advise BioSig and Streamex as it pioneers a new model for commodity markets. The tokenization of real-world assets will transform how institutions and individuals access and invest in the physical world."

Kellan Grenier added, "BioSig and Streamex's approach aligns strongly with our belief in programmable financial assets and blockchain-based access to previously inaccessible asset classes. We're thrilled to support their vision."

BioSig & Streamex's Advisory Board

Trevor Bacon and Kellan Grenier join a distinguished group of strategic advisors at BioSig and Streamex, each bringing world-class experience to the company's mission of transforming global commodity markets through tokenization. The advisory team now includes:
