Mr. Jarret Gorlin, CEO, and Mr. Patrick Kullmann, President and COO, will be providing updates on the company's patented DenerveX™ System, which is intended to treat Facet Joint Syndrome (FJS) and their Streamline® IV Suspension System (ISS), a patient equipment management device that makes the transport of patients and their equipment within hospitals safe and efficient.

The Rodman & Renshaw 17th Annual Global Investment Conference includes over 200 public and private companies presenting their businesses to an audience of approximately 2,000 attendees. With tracks dedicated to Healthcare, Metals & Mining, Technology, Cleantech and Growth, this year's conference will bring presenting companies together with a vast audience of financial and strategic investors. In addition to corporate presentations, Rodman facilitates one-on-one investor meetings and provides platforms for engaged Q&A sessions. Rodman & Renshaw is proud to donate a portion of proceeds from this year's event to New York University's Center for Neural Science.

If you are an institutional investor, and would like to attend the Medovex presentation, please click on the following link www.rodm.com to register for the Rodman & Renshaw conference. Once your registration is confirmed, you will be prompted to log into the conference website to request a one-on-one meeting with management.

About Medovex

Medovex was formed to acquire and develop a diversified portfolio of potentially ground breaking medical technology products. Criteria for selection include those products with potential for significant improvement in the quality of patient care combined with cost effectiveness. The Company's first pipeline product, the DenerveX device, is intended to provide long lasting relief from pain associated with facet joint syndrome at significantly less cost than currently available options. To learn more about Medovex Corp., visit www.medovex.com/. The DenerveX System is not commercially available.
