

BioSig Technologies, Inc. is a medical technology company that is developing a proprietary biomedical signal processing platform initially aimed at addressing unmet clinical needs within the rapidly growing $4.6 billion electrophysiology (EP) marketplace. Led by a proven management team, world-class Board of Directors and Scientific Advisory Board, Los Angeles-based BioSig is preparing to commercialize its PURE EP™ System. PURE EP™ is a signal acquisition and processing system designed to assist electrophysiologists in making clinical decisions in real-time to help identify areas of tissue that create a heart rhythm disturbance (arrhythmia). PURE EP™ is designed to support catheter ablation cases, working in parallel with existing recording and mapping systems. BioSig’s goal is to improve the standards of care in electrophysiology and increase the number of patients who can have their condition successfully treated during the first procedure.

PURE EP™ System

Key Growth Drivers

- Advanced Technology – The non-invasive PURE EP System is a computerized system intended for acquiring, digitizing, amplifying, filtering, measuring and calculating, displaying, recording and storing of electrocardiographic and intracardiac signals for patients undergoing electrophysiology (EP) procedures in an EP laboratory. The system is indicated for use under the supervision of licensed healthcare practitioners who are responsible for interpreting the data. The PURE EP System aims to minimize noise and artifacts, and acquire high-fidelity cardiac signals. Improving cardiac signals may potentially increase the diagnostic value of these signals, thereby possibly improving accuracy and efficiency of the EP studies and ablation procedures. The PURE EP™ System received FDA 510(k) clearance in August 2018.
- Market Opportunity – Market Research Engine states the global electrophysiology (EP) device market is expected to exceed more than US $8.5 billion by 2024 and is growing at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 10.6%. The Company also operates within the rapidly emerging field of bioelectronic medicine, estimated at $3.75 billion in 2017 with projected annual growth of 14.2%.
- KOL Support – The Company had achieved proof of concept validation through UCLA, and performed thirteen pre-clinical studies at Mayo Clinic, MN and one study at Mt Sinai, NY to date. The Company’s Scientific Advisory Board is led by Dr. Andrea Natale, who had successful first in human use with the PURE EP™ System at Texas Cardiac Arrhythmia Institute in February 2019; and Dr. Samuel Asirvatham of Mayo Clinic which will also be performing clinical studies with PURE EP™ in 2019. BioSig also collaborates with other centers of excellence to refine and, ultimately, commercialize its novel information system.

Current Cardiac Arrhythmia Epidemic (1 in 18 or 14.4M Americans)

Two of the most prevalent and potentially deadly types of arrhythmias today are Atrial Fibrillation (AF) and Ventricular Tachycardia (VT). Ventricular arrhythmias account for approximately 450,000 sudden deaths per year in the United States alone. AF is the most common arrhythmia affecting 33.5 million people worldwide, with as many as 6.1 million people in the U.S. now and expected 8-12 million by 2050. AF increases the risk of stroke 4x to 5x and contributes to ~750,000 hospitalizations per year. The direct cost of AF is approximately $6B annually; adding other indirect costs brings AF total cost to $26B.
